

ARDERY JURY COMPLETED AT THREE THIS AFTERNOON

ALMOST THREE DAYS TAKEN UP WITH SELECTION OF JURY TO TRY CASE OF COUNTY WIDE INTEREST

EVIDENCE WILL NOW BE TAKEN

The selection of a jury to hear the evidence in the trial of Ralph Ardery charged with the murder of his cousin Lawrence Ardery appears to have developed into an insurance contest between the opposing attorneys and each side, splitting in the propounding of questions and minute dissection of the answers given had never previously been witnessed in the Clearfield County courts.

The first panel of eighty-five names were exhausted in the securing of six jurors. The additional panel of seventy-five summoned for yesterday afternoon yielded but five up to adjournment at 6 o'clock. An evening session was ordered and at this session the remainder were shunted aside and an order made for the bringing in of an additional fifty for today.

When 1:30 arrived today the court room was crowded to capacity by the curious crowd anxious to be present at the opening of the commonwealth's side of the case. The fifty jurors specially called were seated in the first three rows of seats ready for call.

The four sisters of the accused young man, who are witnesses for the defense, were seated within the bar enclosure directly in the rear of the prisoner, but they exchanged no word with him during the time preliminary to the beginning of the examination.

Frank Mosebarger of Clearfield, was the first juror called. He has some conscientious scruples on the question of capital punishment. He said he would not render a verdict of guilty if there was no eye witness to the murder. Challenge for cause.

A. I. Bell, of Greenwood township, cashier of the Mahaffey bank, was next called and after careful examination was passed by the defense. He was challenged by the Commonwealth.

Fred H. Diehl, laborer of Chest township had conscientious scruples against capital punishment on the ground that two wrongs do not make a right. Challenged for cause by the Commonwealth.

Allen Huston, laborer, of Cooper, was next called. He served four months in the army and had just been discharged from service. He appeared in khaki and when he said he had conscientious scruples against capital punishment was asked by Attorney Woodward how he arrived at such a conclusion especially as he believed that as a soldier it was right to kill his enemy in battle. He could not make satisfactory answer and was challenged for cause by the Commonwealth.

E. H. Lewis, mine foreman, of Karthaus, was challenged for cause by the Commonwealth.

Clarence Bailey, of Glen Hope, was challenged for cause by the Commonwealth.

Henry W. Hendricks, of DuBois, was against capital punishment and was challenged for cause by the Commonwealth.

George W. Noll would not convict without an eye witness. Challenged for cause by Commonwealth.

G. A. Johnson, of Cooper, was against capital punishment as a general proposition and was challenged for cause by the Commonwealth.

Alfred Rees, of Karthaus, was challenged by the Commonwealth.

J. R. Clark, of DuBois, had conscientious scruples and was challenged for cause by the Commonwealth.

J. Quigley, of Sandy township, didn't believe in "confidential killings" and would not convict without an eye witness and was challenged for cause by the Commonwealth.

Eugene Rowles, of Gramplan, was of the same opinion and was disposed of by the same route.

H. D. Bailey, of Cooper, was against capital punishment and the challenge for cause by the commonwealth disposed of him.

H. P. Rafferty of Penn township, did not like circumstantial evidence and was challenged for cause by the Commonwealth.

A. H. Draucker, of Brady, was against capital punishment and challenged for cause by the Commonwealth.

Mahaffey Ferguson, of Mahaffey, was accepted as juror No. 12.

The men chosen are as follows: Geo E. Hetherington, clerk DuBois. R. J. Dunsmore, dentist, DuBois. James J. McHugh, miner, Gulich twp. G. B. Shunkweiler, laborer Lawrence. S. D. Marshall laborer.

E. W. Breen, laborer, DuBois. A. N. Work, machinist, Sandy. Frank Fry, agent, Mahaffey. Ed. A. Thompson, farmer, Greenwood. Karl Anderson, merchant, Cooper. Ellsworth Fliegel, lineman, Clearfield. Mahaffey Ferguson, hotel, Mahaffey.

FIVE MEN OF 28TH LEAVE HERE FOR BIG PARADE TODAY

Five happy boys left Clearfield today for Philadelphia to participate in the wonderful parade of the famous "Iron Division" tomorrow. These boys, Reuben Lucas, William W. Keeler and Albert S. Wilson, all of whom were members of Co. L, 11th Infantry, and all of whom were gassed and invalided home, and Dent Holden, Co. B, 109th Infantry, who was both gassed and wounded and Ryle Miller, Co. F, 110th Infantry, who was gassed, go to the "welcome" celebration at Philadelphia as the guests of the State of Pennsylvania. Their carfare, board and lodging are provided without charge.

When the announcement of free passage for casualties was made, no particular effort was made to get transportation for our Clearfield boys but as is usually the case in these circumstances "Pooch-bah" John Bain got on the job yesterday morning and by telephone reached Adjutant General Beary and although the request was late, persuaded Gen. Beary to wave rules and issue tickets. The tickets were received by Mr. Bain this morning and distributed to the boys.

PHILADELPHIA, May 14—Indications today were that the transport Peerless carrying 28th division troops would not reach here in time to permit its men participating in Thursday's parade. Troops aboard included the 108th Field Artillery, 108 Machine Gun battalion and Co. M. of the 110th Inf.

NOT A BANK HOLIDAY

Although tomorrow has been designated a legal holiday by a concurrent house resolution directing the governor to declare it a holiday, and although Governor Sproul has so declared, the Attorney General has ruled that it is not a bank holiday. We will pay our notes as usual.

DUBOIS EDITOR HERE

W. B. Ross, editor of the DuBois Courier, is a city visitor today as a special guest of Sheriff Gorman, he having been called as a special jurymen in the Ardery case. Happily, the twelfth man was found before Bill's name was reached so the versatile editor filled in the balance of the day taking notes on the case, and the Courier will have the benefit of his capable editing tomorrow morning.

AGRICULTURAL AND GAME COMMISSION TO ENFORCE DOG LAW

State Game Protector Woody Kelly was in town today on his way home to DuBois from a trip to Harrisburg. Mr. Kelly informed us that the State Game Commission, following an opinion and authorization from the Attorney General's Department, proposed to get busy on the cleanup of unlicensed dogs throughout the State. He also said that Clearfield county was one of the worst counties in the State in this regard, as the Constables in the different districts seemed to consider the dog law a dead letter.

Under the law now the owner of an unlicensed dog is subject to a fine of from $10 to 100 in addition to having his dog killed and it is the purpose of the game authorities and agricultural department to see that henceforth the law is enforced to the letter.

In his walk about town this morning Mr. Kelly counted no less than five unlicensed dogs in a distance of four blocks in the business section. He looked up the Constables before leaving for home and notified them to get busy and a dog slaying campaign will no doubt be the result.

BILL ORGANIZING CONSERVATION DEPT. PASSES THE SENATE

HARRISBURG, May 14—The Senate today passed the bill creating a Department of Conservation. General protests were raised at the hearing of the bill by representatives of sportsmen's associations from all sections of the state who asked for continuance of the game commission. No amendments of particular importance were made. The bill provides for an advisory commission of nine members but complete power is placed in the hands of a Commissioner of Conservation who receives a salary of $8,000. The bill is backed by the administration but will likely be amended in the House.

The House bill organizing a Banking Department was finally passed with but two dissenting votes.

The insurance department reorganization bill passed finally.

The Senate bill prohibiting the attendance of children between 8 and 14 years at moving pictures during school hours was passed on second reading.

CLEARFIELD BOY ON ALPINE PEAK

Wagoner Ernest C. Barger, with Supply C. 79th Field Artillery in a letter to his mother, Mrs. Daniel Barger, from Sorey, France, dated April 18th, says he is alive and well, but does not know whether he will be home this year or next, although his outfit is packed up ready to move somewhere. He says he just returned from a thirteen day furlough which he spent in sight seeing. He was up in the Alps mountains to Chamonix on the highest peak in Europe. The day before his party arrived they had a snow fall of three feet, but he said that never even jarred a Pennsylvanian.

MIKADO PLAYERS PUT SHOW OVER IN FINE STYLE

Producer Kerr And His Cast With Wonderful Orchestra Entertain Crowded Theatre

GOOD SEATS AT A PREMIUM

The first performance of "The Mikado" at the Driggs theatre last evening was greeted by a large audience who were well repaid for their attendance.

The show was even better than expected and every number or feature made a hit. The applause was spontaneous and enthusiastic and not a single "point" was missed.

The entire cast was in competent hands while the choruses were equally strong, the Japanese maidens being exceptionally pretty. The only rift in our artistic lute was the appearance of the Japanese gentlemen, in the chorus. They are simply awful to look at, and on account of the delicate international situation at present we were "on needles and pins" as the saying is, all the time the curtain was up for fear some real sure-enough Jap, with his feelings on his sleeve, would happen into the theatre and immediately decide that the caricatures present and labeled "Japanese gentlemen" were enough in themselves to establish a casus belli, and declare war at once. Those Japanese really looked as though they had been crossed with the "Wizard of Oz" with a few specimens from the "Gingerbread man" on the side. But go and see them tonight or tomorrow night, you'll laugh too. They are really awful to look at.

It was indeed a creditable performance throughout, and as all are deserving of the very highest praise it is needless for us to particularize.

Director Kerr is to be congratulated upon the success of the initial performance and Musical Director Leopold is also deserving of highest praise for the manner in which his part in the production was carried out.

The show will be repeated tonight and tomorrow and as an entertainment such as this improves with each performance a rare treat is in store for those who will attend tonight or tomorrow night.

CONGRESSMAN JONES GLAD TO HELP MEN SECURE ALLOWANCES

Bradford Pa. May 14
"There are a number of inquiries that come to me as to the mileage allotment for enlisted men honorably discharged from the army, navy and marine corps since November 11, 1918. Under the Act of February 29th 1919, this was fixed at five cents per mile from the place of his discharge to the place of his original muster into the service. Since the passage of that Act the men have been receiving the five cents but there were many men discharged between November 11, 1918 and February 29th 1919 who received the former rate of three and one-half cents.

Under a decision recently made by the Controller of the Currency, these men are now entitled to the additional sum of one and one-half cents per mile. Any discharged soldier entitled to this increase, if he will make it known to my office either here or at Washington, I will be very glad to assist him in getting the same."

E. J. JONES, Congressman

The 1918-19 season was quite successful and the boys were highly complimented during the evening on the skill and sportsmanship shown.

The election of a captain for next year's team was made at this gathering and Newt Norris was unanimously chosen for the place.

"BIG FOUR" LITERALLY FLOODED WITH WHINES FROM COWED "BLOND BEAST"

By FRED S. FERGUSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
PARIS, May 14—The "big four" today received three new notes from the German delegates relative to the peace terms. The notes were not published. Seven communications concerning the treaty have thus far been delivered to the Allies. The first two notes were promptly answered. The second two concerning labor and war prisoners were referred to a special committee of experts. It was believed that a reply to the labor note must be made today. Confidence was expressed in high quarters notwithstanding the present flooding of communications from Germany they will complete their objections to the terms well within the fifteen day limit and that the Allies will have made full peeply within 10 days. The same authorities admitted the cleverness of the labor note which may be used as a wedge for many objections. Also as a means of winning sympathy from a certain radical element throughout the world.

BERLIN MOB SHOWS HATRED FOR U.S. BY CRYING "DOWN WITH AMERICA"

By JOHN GRAUNDENZ
BERLIN, May 13 delayed—Fifteen thousand majority Socialists made a demonstration in front of the Hotel Adlon today crying "down with Wilson, down with the Americans." The tumult grew in front of the American headquarters until 50 soldiers cleared the streets. The crowd had gathered for a demonstration against the peace terms in front of the Reichstag building. They were addressed by Richard Fischer who said that the confidence of Germany in President Wilson had been shamefully abused and that the government would refuse to sign the treaty. The demonstrators thronged in front of the Hotel Adlon hooting, jeering and shouting "robbers". The tumultuous scene lasted a half hour. Chancellor Schiedemann later addressed a large crowd in front of the Reichstag.

"We will fight to the utmost against separation by violence of any German territory," Chancellor Schiedemann declared in a statement today.

EXPERT AUSTRIANS TO ARRIVE AT ST. GERMAIN TODAY

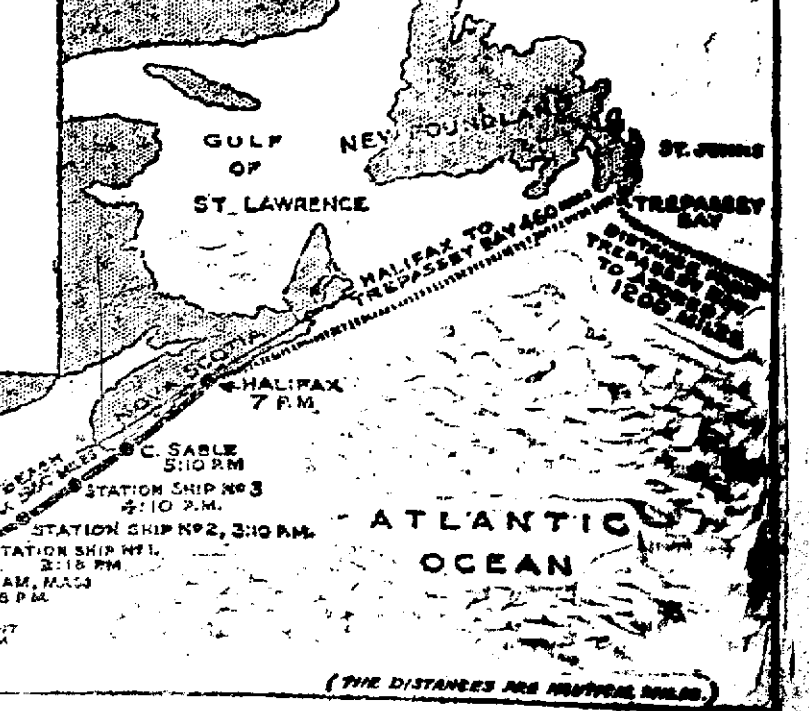

By Wm. Phillip Sims
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
ST. GERMAIN, May 14—The hour of the arrival of the Austrian peace delegates in St. Germain scheduled for today was uncertain. The train reached Basle last night and would have had time to arrive early this morning but it was believed it was purposely delayed on route so as to reach its destination at night same as the German delegates. Special telephone, telegraph and wireless facilities were installed here. Wireless will permit the enemy delegates to go in direct communication with Austria, Vienna. The delegates will live in the Hotel Pavillon of Henry the Fourth. The treaty will be presented to the Austrians in the chateau.

There is nothing smart any more in a young blood owning an eight cylinder roadster, but the fellow who has a fleet driving horse or riding horse comes in for more or less attention.

The Mikado performance last evening was a real pleasant surprise. It surpasses by far many of the high class musical comedies which visit our city. It is gratifying to learn that the seat rule is progressing today in a manner which warrants the prediction that the Driggs theatre will be over crowded both to night and tomorrow night.

Between extracting teeth, shooting or shooting at wild heifers and playing a gamey trout into a net, Dr. Frank D. Leipold has been a busy man during the last few years or since he quit conducting military bands. The conductor, however, has lost none of his old time "pop." His orchestra had a great deal to do with the success of the Mikado last evening.

It is unfortunate that the Salvation Army drive should come immediately on the heels of not only a Victory Loan drive but also just after a week filled with opera, a la Florence Nash, and three nights of the Mikado, to say nothing of John Robinson's circus which will be here on Friday. On Saturday evening we are not going to have enough money left to satisfy a heartless butcher and an unfeeling grocer. However, The Salvation Army deserves first place in our gratitude and there is not one of us but whom will be glad, and count it a privilege, to add our mite to the fund which they ask. The doughboy is heart and soul for the Salvation Army. We can rely on his judgment.

The Anderson case which was begun before Judge Bell on Monday last promises to be one of the most expensive murder trials in Clearfield County in some time. The expense of securing a jury will exceed that of possibly any other jury in the recent criminal history of the county.

In addition to the regular panel of sixty-five names summoned for May term of criminal court twenty additional jurors were summoned for Monday last. These eighty-five names yielded, but six jurors who were able to pass the grilling and grueling of counsel in the case. Following this Sheriff Gorman was directed to summon seventy-five more, who reported at 1:30 Tuesday. From this extra panel just five jurors were secured and when the entire list had been exhausted the Sheriff was again ordered to produce an additional fifty men. These men reported at 1:30 today when the examination was again resumed for the purpose of getting the twelfth man.

The Progress representative visited the court house this morning for the purpose of determining just what the expense of these extra jurors would amount to. We found upon investigation at the Commissioners', Treasurer's and Sheriff's offices that the total expense to the taxpayers of the county of the one hundred and twenty-five jurors specially summoned would amount to approximately $1500.

These figures are arrived at by averaging the amount received by each juror at $8.00, which includes his pay for the day and mileage, in addition to the Sheriff's cost and mileage getting the men here. Each juror receives $2.50 per day and six cents per mile mileage. Some of the jurors received as much as $11.00 while none were under $5.50.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. To have clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days—you must get at the cause.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.
They stimulate bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.

CARRY A FEW OLD NEWSPAPERS ALONG FOR MUDDY HOLES

A resourceful motorist whose car has been stuck in the mud does not always have to fall back on a pair of mules to get free. For such an emergency the United States Tire Company offers some suggestions that have proved valuable.

The first calls for having stored away somewhere in the car a stock of old newspapers. When the car gets stuck and the wheels refuse to take hold feed in some of the old papers between the tires and the mud. Usually only a few will have to be worked in before the wheels will begin to grip and the car start forward. This method of handling a difficult situation is so simple and so uniformly successful, that every motorist should know of it and carry a pile of old newspapers, unless he is equipped with some other apparatus for such a contingency.

Here is the other method suggested by the United States Tire Company: Put the car in low, and if you cannot feed the gas with your foot evenly, so that the wheels will revolve slowly, put your emergency brake on. Do not put it on so that the wheels will not revolve at all, but tightly enough to keep them from revolving rapidly. With the wheels turning slowly, the maximum pull is delivered to them by having the car in low gear, and so long as they turn slowly they can get the benefit of the tremendous power.

It is not always wise to fill the hole with stones or bricks, for their rough edges are hard on tires. Small branches of trees are better, as they offer much better tractive space. Should this method fail, quite often a slight push that would not much more than move a baby buggy will furnish just the added amount of power necessary to get the car going.

Acid In Stomach Sours The Food

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid Is Cause of Indigestion

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion are nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, waterbrash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

The Queen Victoria centenary celebration this month recalls the fact that there was considerable trouble in finding a name for the royal baby born in the old, shabby, brick palace in Kensington, May 24 1819. The father wished to call her Elizabeth, thinking that from its glorious traditions it would prove a name to please the people should she occupy the throne. But the Prince Regent, who was godfather, together with the Emperor of Russia, gave only the name of Alexandrina to the clergy. The father pleaded that another name be added, and proposed the feminine for of the Regent's own name, Georgina. But the Regent said his name could not come in the second place, and as the Emperor's must take precedence, if the baby had to have another name to give her mother's. So the Princess came to be called Alexandrina Victoria, and in infancy was known as the Princess "Dina"—a name she dropped after her accession, for she did not want her mother's name to be second to any other name.

When the "Rainbows" Broke the Prussian Guards—and the Hun Morale

By REPRESENTATIVE HORACE M. TOWNER, of Iowa

When Foch not only stopped the well-conceived offensive of the Germans, which was to be their final and triumphant march on Paris, but immediately launched a counter-offensive with what seemed reckless abandon against the German lines, he met with unexpected success. By hard and well-directed fighting he forced the Germans to retire on both sides of the Chateau-Thierry triangle. So rapidly was the assault pressed that the Germans, in danger of a disastrous rout, called into action their strongest reserves. It was then that the Germans determined to send the invincible Prussian Guards against the advance. It was the "Rainbow" division that met this onset of the Prussian Guards.

The Prussian Guards have been regarded by the German people for more than a century as the ideal of the German army. They have been considered not only as the best that German military science could produce but vastly superior to any other military organization in the world. They were not called into action except upon extraordinary occasions. They were sent against the Americans to demolish them, to put them to shame, to show their lack of training and incompetency. The Fourth, their crack division, the best of the best, hitherto undefeated, led the attack.

The guards charged in due form, but, strange to say, the Americans refused to yield. The "Rainbow" boys met the onset calmly and resolutely, and with such a well-directed storm of rifle and machine-gun fire that it blinded and stunned and finally stopped the fierce assault.

And then the boys from Camp Creek and Smoky Hollow counter-charged with a swiftness and ferocity that took the breath away from the wondering guards. The Americans simply went through the front ranks of the invincible guards as if it were an everyday diversion. Time and again the officers of the guards rallied the men to stop the American onset. Some say four times, some six, and others say nine times the guards tried to re-form and re-attack, but the Americans pressed them so hard they could not find a chance. The Americans pressed them not only in front but soon attacked their flanks. The Germans were in danger of being surrounded, and so there was nothing to do but retreat in order to prevent surrender or destruction. This they did, with difficulty preserving their organization.

It was a glorious victory for the Forty-second division. It was a terrible defeat for the guards. It gave confidence to the allies all along the line. It did more to break the morale of the Germans than any other single action.

Bohemia Protected Against Anarchy by Great Faith and Patriotism

By THOMAS MASARYK, President

The bolshevik government in Russia will last longer than is generally supposed, not because of the inherent force of the ideas and methods of the bolsheviks, as many persons erroneously think, but because of the weakness of the other parties, which are sleeping in a dangerous state of lethargy.

I am not afraid that Bohemia, even though surrounded by countries in liquidation, like Russia, like Germany, like Austria-Hungary, will be disappointed because of anarchy in realizing its fullest hopes of resurrection. I do not fear that in the least, in spite of its unfortunate geographical position. The Czechoslovak republic will be protected from the infection of its great faith, its great patriotism, and by good organization and preparation. The new state, like the other victories of the contents, need fear nothing from this anarchy which never has and never will have power to destroy the edifice created by victory.

As to the Hungarians who are unwilling to renounce their claims to Slovakia, it is possible there may be some questions. But over the outcome I feel no anxiety. Whether the outcome shall be settled by force of arms, whether as a matter of right, the triumph will be ours.

The familiar figure in blue uniform and poke bonnet is back home to serve, after four years in khaki with the boys "Over There." Salvation Army lassies served old fashioned American doughnuts in the front line trenches, and now that the war is over they will be found again in the slums and dark places of our great cities, ready to give a helping hand to men, women and children who are on the down grade. The Salvation Army Home Service Campaign for $13,000,000 opens May 19, to last one week.

She knows how the poor suffer because she has suffered with them. She knows their sick rooming in the wreck of a dissolute man a spark of humanity that will kindle a redeeming flame, because she has fanned many flickering sparks until her patient has regained his feet. She now heads the Salvation Army in the United States at the great moment of its career. The old time slurs and doubts have been banished. WILSON ENDORSES SALVATION ARMY.

President Wilson, burdened as he is, found time to cable his endorsement of the Salvation Army Home Service Fund Campaign, which will be conducted during the week of May 19-26. The cablegram:

Commander Miss E. Booth, Personal, Salvation Army, 120 West Fourteenth street, New York:

I am very much interested to know that the Salvation Army is about to enter into a campaign for a sustaining fund. I feel that the Salvation Army needs no commendation from me. The love and gratitude it has elicited from the troops is a sufficient evidence of the work it has done, and I feel that I should not so much commend it as to congratulate it. Cordially and sincerely yours,

WOODROW WILSON.

"OUT OF LOVE" CLUB UNIQUE ORGANIZATION

Members Are Girls Rescued by Salvation Army.

The "Out of Love" Club is one of the important club organizations maintained by the Salvation Army in this country. In every large city where there is a Salvation Army corps girls who have been helped back into the normal pace of a workaday world are proud of the membership in this club. Disappointed, loveless girls who do not forget kindnesses shown them in their hour of greatest need give out of love to help other girls receive the same friendliness. In a simple, quiet way, this unique idea has been maintained for over 20 years.

In every large city in the country there are girls who have needed the ministrations of the Salvation Army. After they have been helped and sent on their way again they become life members of this club if they so desire. Only girls are admitted who have given a good account of themselves for at least one month in the positions found for them by the Salvation Army after their release from a hospital or home. These girls pledge themselves to keep alive the spirit of friendliness and love which the Salvation Army has spread among them. The girls are expected to dress in a plain, simple way, and avoid in any sense of the word gaudy or tawdry clothing.

Gossiping or tale bearing is tabooed. If members of the club transgress this rule they are liable to suspension for a month or longer. The "Out of Love Club" is one of the many activities that will benefit by the success of the Salvation Army Home Service Fund Campaign for $13,000,000 May 19-26.

Reconstruction Work at Home And Abroad Will Cost Methodists $5,000,000 A Year for Five Years

Bishop Henderson Gives Vivid Picture Of World Needs, As Result Of War's Havoc.

Duty of Church Plain, He Says. Humanity's Call For Help In World's Crisis Will Not Go Unheeded.

Vast Scope Of Relief Program Explained. Orphanages Dispensaries And Social Work Projected.

How Methodism will meet after-the-war responsibilities by expending vast sums of money in reconstruction work both at home and abroad, was outlined today by Bishop Theodore S. Henderson, of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Bishop Henderson, recently returned from abroad, as a special deputy of the Missionary Centenary of the Church, to make a minute survey of needs in European areas hardest hit by the invasion of the Hun, and he is soon to sail from New York with a relief ship laden with supplies for the stricken people of Northern France and Italy.

"The stricken French in devastated areas will stagger for years under the yoke that war has imposed and they need America's help, and they need it without delay," Bishop Henderson said.

"As the special representative of the Methodist Centenary I have just returned from a tour of France, Italy and other territory wrecked by war, and I am convinced that the way is open for the church to do a piece of constructive work that will be unprecedented."

Bishop Henderson announced that to fulfill the requirements of the Centenary program, the Methodist Episcopal Church will spend $5,000,000 in war reconstruction work this year, more than half of that sum being spent in Europe, chiefly in French territory.

"The plight of the French in the invaded sections, swept bare of everything, is most pitiable," the Bishop said. "America's aid is needed and as quickly as it can be given. Mothers with babes in their arms, by the thousands are on the verge of starvation, and the plight of other thousands for lack of food and clothing is almost as bad. The situation in some sections of France is beyond the imagination of the average American who enjoys peace and plenty."

"Methodism will do its part to bring relief to these distressed people. We shall spend in Europe this year a total of $2,905,000 to meet actual needs according to the accurate survey made by the Centenary deputation of clergymen. Later $5,000,000 will be expended annually."

"The outstanding features of this program are: Relief ships to carry medicine, food, clothing, farming implements and a variety of utensils to aid the destitute in starting life anew; rest houses; notable extensions of orphanages, community centers; together with other activities over a long range. A total of $2,500,000 also will be spent in the United States during the present year on work made necessary by the war."

Nearly 200,000 orphans who are left absolutely dependent upon charity, provides one of the problems which the Methodist Church will seek to solve through its Centenary benevolences, Bishop Henderson declared.

Immediate authorizations for French people in distress amount to $796,000, the Bishop declared. "Our principal work will be done in Cannes, Lyons,

BISHOP THEODORE S. HENDERSON

Toulon, Nice, Grenoble, Metz, Nancy, Amiens, Noyon and Savoy. Clinics will be established at once at these towns and community centers will be started. The two present establishments at Charvieux and Bouilly, for caring for orphans of those who fell in war will be greatly enlarged and facilities will be installed to enlarge the scope of the work done so that the children may be taught agriculture. A new farm will be bought at Charvieux at a cost of $25,000 together with two residential villas and new farm machinery. Additional land will be bought at Bouilly at a cost of $10,000.

"Among some of the other projects are a day nursery at Albertville and a community center building in Bourneuf. The program for the year covers a lengthy list of other towns and a wide range of activities, in proportion to the needs."

"Community centers will be a big feature of our work. An orphanage for boys whose fathers fell in war will be built at Trent. A school for wood carving at Venice will be enlarged. The program for Alcasandria, in Italy. We shall install at that place a clinic, night classes, day nursery gymnasium and free dispensary. Throughout the whole reconstruction program the efforts to instill the spirit of Christianity in the hearts of the people will go hand in hand with ministrations to the minds and bodies of the war sufferers."

"From this you can see that the Church has a responsibility which must be met. We must aid the families trying to live a life all over again. We must ease the strain of the struggle has shown on the moral as well as bodies, and exert our influence for a better civilization. All the sacred values built up in the character of the people by war sacrifice must be retained. It is the duty of the Church to keep up with the amazing shifts in populations as a result of the war. War stirred unassimilated foreign masses must be Americanized. The Church has taken up its duty along these and other lines and is seeking to do its part to solve the problems that confront us."

"The Centenary program embraces the idea of the Brotherhood of Man—the very idea for which we fought and won victory in France. The world feeling must not die out. It's a bigger thing than the war. Our aim must be to wipe out every scar left by the war upon the nation's lives. To be content with the world as it was before 1914 is to confess failure. We must help to make a better and brighter world. The spirit of Christ must rule over every nation."

Relief Ship, Loaded With Plows, Movable Houses, Food and Medicine Is Sent By Centenary To Europe

Laden with food, clothing and farm implements a ship will sail for Europe in a few weeks under the supervision of leaders in the Methodist Centenary to carry relief to war sufferers of France, Italy and Southeastern Europe.

Dr. B. M. Tipple, head of the Methodist College in Rome, Bishop Theodore S. Henderson of Detroit, and Bishop W. F. Anderson will accompany the ship which will discharge its cargo before July 1.

Bishop Henderson has just returned from Europe where he was surveying the needs of the war sufferers with a view to formulating a program for their relief which will be made part of the Methodist Centenary five-year program.

Although much relief work has already been done in Europe by other agencies of the Methodist Episcopal Church the relief ship will be the initial one sent out as a Centenary offering.

The ship will enter the Mediterranean, discharge part of the cargo at Marseilles and land the rest in Trieste. From Trieste supplies will be sent to Italy, the Balkans, the new Jug-Slav nation, Hungary, Rumania and if conditions allow, Southern Russia.

Dr. Tipple, who is close in touch with European conditions, says that tractor plows and other farming implements are badly needed. "We also will send a few cows as the invading armies drove off all the stock from Northern Italy and the Balkans," he said.

"We shall include auto trucks for farming and for carrying relief supplies, clothing and shoes desperately needed by men, women and children, condensed milk for babies, flour, corn meal, potatoes, salt, sugar, bacon, medicines, seeds, candles, pins, pans, matches and 50 to 100 movable houses."

Says an inside bath, before breakfast helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Sparkling and vivacious—merry, bright, alert—a good clear skin and a natural, rosy, healthy complexion are assured only by pure blood. If only every man and woman could be induced to adopt the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls, with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nervic" wrecks, "rascals," "brain fag" and pessimists we should see a viril, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, indigestion and particularly those who have a sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance, awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

TIME TO FEED YOUNG CHICKS

Mashes Mixed With Milk Are of Considerable Value in Giving Youngsters Good Start

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Young chicks may be fed any time after they are thirty-six to forty-eight hours old whether they are with a hen or in a brooder. Some good feeds for the first feeding are moistened hard-boiled eggs, Johnnycake, stale bread, oatmeal or rolled oats, which may be fed separately or in combination. Mash mixed with milk are of considerable value in giving the chicks a good start. The mixture should be fed in a crumbly mash and not in a sloppy condition. Johnnycake composed of the following ingredients in the proportion named is a very good feed for young chicks: One dozen infertile eggs or one pound of sifted beef scraps to ten pounds of cornmeal; add enough milk to make a pasty mash and one tablespoonful of baking soda and bake until done. Dry bread crumbs may be mixed with hard-boiled eggs, making about one-fourth of the mixture eggs, or rolled oats may be used in place of bread crumbs.

It is a good plan to give these feeds about five times daily for the first week, then gradually substitute for one or two of these feeds a mixture of finely cracked grains of equal parts by weight of cracked wheat and finely cracked corn and pinhead oatmeal or hulled oats, to which about 5 per cent of cracked peas or broken rice and 2 per cent of charcoal or millet or rape seed may be added. A commercial chick feed may be substituted if desired. This ration may be fed until the chicks are two weeks old, when they should be placed on grain and a dry or wet mash mixture.

Young Chicks Just Out.

exercising except at the evening or last meal, when they should be given all they will eat. There is danger in over-feeding, particularly if the young chicks are confined and do not have access to free range, as too much food under such conditions is apt to cause leg weakness.

JOHN CALVIN WARD,
Private, Company D, 117th Infantry.

Private Ward was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for conspicuous gallantry in action near Estrées, France, October 8, 1918. During an advance Private Ward's company was held up by a machine gun which was enfilading the line. Accompanied by a non-commissioned officer, he advanced against this position and succeeded in reducing the nest by killing three and capturing seven of the enemy and their guns. His mother, Mrs. Laura Ward, lives in Morrisstown, Tenn.

For the first time in the history of the institution a girl student was chosen recently to represent the University of Cincinnati in an intercollegiate debating contest.

BIG ROBINSON SHOW WILL REACH HERE EARLY ON FRIDAY

John Robinson's circus is coming to Clearfield Friday May 16th, and will take possession of the old show grounds early on the morning of exhibition days to prepare for the parade and two performances. The first section of the mile long circus train will reach the city about daylight and the work of unloading will be commenced at the peep of dawn.

Giant motor tractors will assist the hundreds of heavy draft horses to transport the baggage wagons and the animals cages to the grounds. One of these engines, nearly as large and strong as a British tank, is capable of drawing a train of seven circus wagons with a combined weight of thirty-five or forty tons. Other labor and time saving devices, perfected through necessity brought about by the great scarcity of workingmen this year, will be used by the Robinson circus. Massive spindie wheels are used on which to roll the canvas tents. In former times it was customary to unlance the canvass in sections, roll it together and lift it into the baggage wagons. These wheels mounted on steel wagons, forty feet long are driven by a gas motor, and, when a section of canvas is attached it is drawn from the ground and rolled in a surprisingly short space of time.

Instead of using man-power to hoist the towering center poles, which form the chief support of the big arena tent, elephants pull them into place by means of block and tackle. The large stakes used by the show are driven by two electric stake drivers.

Many surprises for the grown-ups as well as the children are promised by John Robinson. Among the arena artists in the big show performance will be Marie Bedini billed as the world's greatest girl rider, Tetu Robinson aerial marvel, Minnie Fisher in remarkable feats in midair the famous Nelson family of acrobats, the Ortons, the Lowanda's, Fred Leggett, the Hodgins, Clara Masters and the Bedini Family, bareback riders, three herds of performing elephants, fifty clowns, two troupes of educated seals and high stepping menage horses.

Sage Tea Keeps Your Hair Dark

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre at Once

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantage of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of Weyen's Sage and Sulphur Compound, which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application of two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous and you appear years younger.

For the first time in the history of the institution a girl student was chosen recently to represent the University of Cincinnati in an intercollegiate debating contest.

THE FRIENDLY TOBACCO

THERE may be some things that can be done well in a hurry, but pickin' a wife an' again' a tobacco ain't amonget 'em.

Velvet Joe

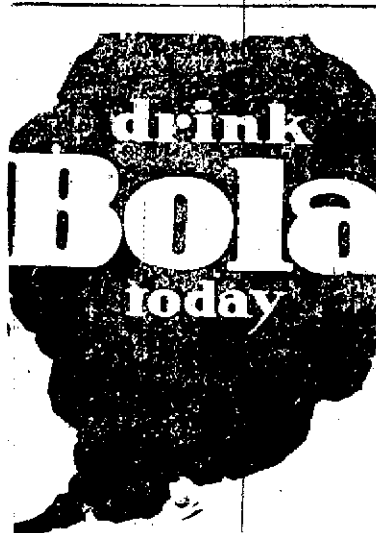

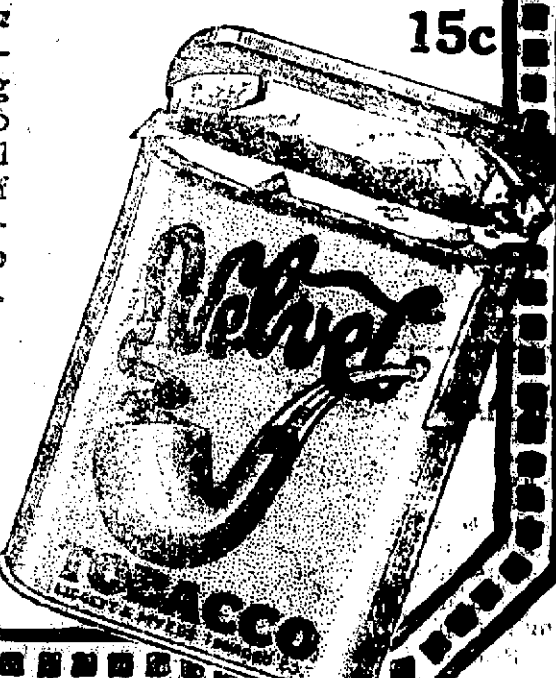

We put away millions of pounds of fine Kentucky Burley tobacco every year, stored in wooden hogsheads. It ripens two years. When we take it out it's different—Nature has improved it, good as it was—made it friendlier, more fragrant, cool-smoking, long-burning.

Nature has given it a delicious quality of mildness and fragrance that no artificial means can ever equal.

It's just that extra touch of friendly goodness that is building up VELVET Tobacco into the favor and good will of thousands of pipe smokers who prefer to smoke tobacco cured in Nature's way.

You would notice the difference.

Can We Tolerate
Orthodoxy?By REV. J. H. RALSTON, D. D.
Secretary of Correspondence Department,
Moody Bible Institute, ChicagoTEXT—For the time will come when
they will not endure sound doctrine.—2
Tim. 4:3.The following bit of conversation is
reported by the Boston Transcript,
giving a suggestion as to the
present attitude
towards the message that God has
committed to his
prophets of today:"You don't
mean to say you
have given Rev.
Dr. — a call to
your church?"
"We have, and
expect him next
month. What is the matter with
him?""Matter? Why,
my dear, he is so hopelessly, deeply,
darkly and beautifully orthodox!"To say, "Your doxy is not my doxy,"
does not dispose of the question of orthodoxy, as claimed by some. Ortho-doxy cannot be laughed out of court.
It can afford to bide its time, for it is destined to win. To be orthodox, is simply to hold to correct teaching or
dogma if you please, that is right. The
very word itself gives the idea of right
teaching.When we inquire as to what is ortho-doxy, the answers vary, according to
the standpoint occupied. One will say that it is the universal divine teaching
of the ages. Another will say that it
is the consensus of religious opinion
held by Christian scholarship of the present day. Another will say that it is the "new spirit" of the twentieth century, as a distinguished theological
professor calls it. Another will say
it is the response of the soul of man to revelation. Still another says it is the will of God, as made known to man
through the inspired writings that are
known as the Scriptures of the Old
and New Testaments.The man who claims the "new spirit"
is orthodox, rather than a divine
revelation, is setting up a standard of
orthodoxy just as certainly as his opponent. The teachings of unbelievers
are just as positive as those of believers. It is a claim of the liberal thinkers of the day, in the words of a distinguished university professor, that
orthodoxy met its Waterloo in the world war, and gave as the reason for
the statement that the Kaiser was orthodox.Where is the "sound doctrine" of
our text to be found? We unhesitatingly
say, "In the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments." The meaning of the Greek word translated
"sound," "healthy" or "wholesome."
If we have in mind the health-
fulness of the soul or the mind, everything is clear. The apostle is simply urging that health-giving words be
spoken. Are those words health-giving that make young people lose their
faith in God and Christ?A young man, carrying an A.B.
from a leading American university
and in his second year at a theological
seminary, stated recently that he had
lost faith in the doctrines of his fathers. A young woman recently wrote
that during her college course her
faith in the Bible had been undermined. It is well known that today,
intelligent Christian parents with
abundant means at their disposal, are
hesitating to send their children to the
ordinary college, even the college of their own religious denomination.Take up a piece of pottery, or
either suspend it from some object or
let it rest very lightly on some support, and then tap it. If the response
is clear, you pronounce it sound; if the
response is cracked, or flat, you say
it is not sound. Apply this principle
to the Scriptures, and we find that they respond with a clear sound. By
the same test, the message that goes
from the man of God may be tested as
to whether it is sound or not, and that
test is the Scriptures of the Old and
New Testament.There is a demand that we get back
to the old paths, to the simple Word of
God. Whatever good there is today
in the world body politic is owing to
the purity of the doctrine of the days
gone by, that have given to the world
such men as President Wilson, Lloyd
George, John R. Mott and Robert
Speer. Of the great characters that
have honored public life within the
last century, not one of them was taint-
ed by the "new spirit," among whom
we may mention William E. Gladstone,
John Bright, Abraham Lincoln and
Theodore Roosevelt.Not only should there be tolerance
for orthodoxy, right thinking and living, but a demand for it that will not
be silenced until in the church, college
and in the secular men and women
and young people will be safe, and not
only safe, but secure in their safety.

Work for All.

One of the greatest needs of the church and of humanity today is for
people willing to roll up their sleeves
and work unselfishly. There are many who accept office who are very useless officers. Many also who, because they have no office, appear to think they have no duties. Unless they are a cog in a wheel they are lacking in initiative to find work to be done.Cleveland is to have a model hotel

WHEEL USED BY GERMANS TO SAVE RUBBER

The photograph shows a wheel that was much used on German trucks in order to conserve rubber. The rim is made of steel and the pads between the steel rim and the wheel are made of rubber. The picture was taken at Speicher, Germany.MOTORISTS FACE
PROBLEM OF GASAutomobile and Petroleum Men
Must Get Together in Close
Harmonious Co-operation.

INCREASE IN MOTOR CARS

Said to Be Possible to Construct Internal Combustion Engines Which
Will Consume Much Less Fuel
of Inferior Kind.The perennial fuel problem will never
be solved until the automobile industry and the petroleum industry get together in close and harmonious cooperation, says Mark L. Requa, general
director of the oil division of the United States fuel administration. In an interview, which appears in Motor, the
national magazine of motoring."The motor fuel problem is not only
a possibility of the future," continues
Mr. Requa, "but even an actuality
of the present, as will be understood
by anyone who takes the trouble to
make even the most cursory examination of the situation." In 1912 our
production of petroleum was 222,935,044
barrels of 42 gallons. In 1916 the out-
put of this basic producer of motor
fuel was 300,767,138 barrels, an increase in four years of less than 30
per cent. On the other hand, in 1912
there were about 1,000,000 motor vehicles in the country, while in 1916 the
motor population of the United States
had risen to 3,541,738. This represents
an increase of over 300 per cent in four years. With one side of an equation
growing less than 30 per cent and the
other side increasing more than 300
per cent, the ultimate situation is not
hard to foreshadow.

Engine Uses Less Oil.

"I am not an automobile engineer,
so I cannot speak from personal knowledge, but I have been informed that it
is possible to design internal combustion engines which will consume much
less fuel per mile than is now being
consumed, and of a much inferior qual-
ity. If this is a fact and the automobile industry faces the situation in cooperation with the oil men to effect
this saving, while these latter are de-
voting their best effort to increasing
production, it would seem that we
might not enough off each end of our
problem to solve it."We seem to be only at the beginning of the gasoline era; a few years
ago gasoline was a wasted by-product;
today it is the most important product
of petroleum, amounting to almost 50
per cent of the total value of petroleum
products. With the record of the past
as a guide, it would seem that the two
great industries so interdependent up-
on each other should co-operate in
bringing about the most efficient consumption of gasoline and the most intelligent understanding of each other's
problems."

CARE OF WINDSHIELD GLASS

Application of Strong Soapsuds Will Prevent Fog or Rain From
Obscuring Vision.Strong soapsuds made from automobile soap and rubbed on the glass
of the windshield and allowed to dry
will prevent fog or rain from obscuring
the vision through the glass. Kerosene is sometimes used for this purpose, but it does not last as long as the
above, and glycerin is also recommended.

AVOID FORMATION OF RUST

If Car Is Used in Bad Weather Tires
and Rims Should Be Wiped
Clean With Sponge.If the car owner, after being out in
bad weather, will take the trouble to
wipe the tires and rims clean with a
sponge and then wipe them dry, especially along the beads, he will do much
to prevent the formation of rust.Statistics gathered from many
lands show that married women live
an average of two years longer than
single ones.

HANDLE BATTERY WITH CARE

Motorist Should Economize on Current and Keep Engine Tuned
to Start on Second Turn.The man who has trouble keeping
his battery charged will find that difficulty largely can be overcome by careful handling. In other words, he should economize on current. He should keep his engine tuned up so
that it starts on the second or third
turn. Thus he can minimize the amount of current used in starting,
and, remember, this is very large. The
current required is 200 to 600 times
as much as required by an ordinary 16-candle power house light.He should also be economical with his lights. He should use his headlights only when absolutely necessary.He should determine the car speed
at which his current relay makes connection with the battery and operate
the car as much as possible above this
speed.If he drives much in a congested
city district and stops his engine many
times he will find that his battery can
be kept more nearly charged by changing gears in traffic whenever necessary instead of trying to do it all on
high gear, the reason being that by
changing gears he boosts his engine
speed so that his battery is charged,
while if he tried to pull slowly on
high he gets down to a speed at which
charging stops due to the opening of
the cut out.

NEW HEADLIGHT FOR MOTORS

Nevada Inventor Provides Mechanism
for Operating Lights Around Curves in Road.The Scientific American, in illustrating and describing a dirigible headlight operating mechanism, the invention of E. C. Smith of Fallon, Nev., says:This inventor provides a mechanism
for operating the headlights of motor vehicles whereby they may follow thecurves and turns in the road in illuminating the same, incorporating means whereby the headlight operating mechanism may be thrown into and out of operation at will. He provides a mechanism coupled with the steering gear and movable into and out of operable relation therewith, in order that if desired the light may be kept stationary while the vehicle is traveling.

DELICATE CAR DOOR POCKETS

Wooden Strips May Be Securely Fast-
ened by Using Blue, Round-
Headed Screws.Many cars are afflicted with "delicate" door pockets, those which are
made of inferior material or are improperly fastened. These are apt to peel loose at the corners since they are merely tacked on wooden strips attached to the door. When this happens they may be securely fastened
by using round-headed screws, which
should have blued heads when the material is blued. These same screws
can be used to advantage in fastening
the linoleum flooring to the boards,
especially at the corners.

FIND LUBRICATING FAILURE

Car Owner Should Emulate Example
of Locomotive Engineer by Using
Hand to Find Trouble.The locomotive engineer frequently
uses his hand to determine lubrication
failure, and this is a hint that the car
owner can put to good use. Failure
of lubrication permits excessive friction, and friction generates heat. An
part which is discovered to be too
hot to the hand held near it is probably suffering from faulty lubrication.

ARDERY JURY COMPLETED
AT THREE THIS AFTERNOONALMOST THREE DAYS TAKEN UP WITH
SELECTION OF JURY TO TRY CASE
OF COUNTY WIDE INTEREST

EVIDENCE WILL NOW BE TAKEN

The selection of a jury to hear the evidence in the trial of Ralph Ardery charged with the murder of his cousin Lawrence Ardery appears to have developed into an insurance contest between the opposing attorneys and each side, splitting in the propounding of questions and minute dissecting of the answers given had never previously been witnessed in the Clearfield County courts.

The first panel of eighty-five names were exhausted in the securing of six jurors. The additional panel of seventy-five summoned for yesterday afternoon yielded but five up to adjournment at 6 o'clock. An evening session was ordered and at this session the remainder were shunted aside and an order made for the bringing in of an additional fifty for today.

When 1:30 arrived today the court room was crowded to capacity by the curious crowd anxious to be present at the opening of the commonwealth's side of the case. The fifty jurors specially called were seated in the first three rows of seats ready for call.

The four sisters of the accused young man, who are witnesses for the defense, were seated within the bar enclosure directly in the rear of the prisoner, but they exchanged no word with him during the time preliminary to the beginning of the examination.

Frank Moseberger of Clearfield, was the first juror called. He has some conscientious scruples on the question of capital punishment. He said he would not render a verdict of guilty if there was no eye witness to the murder. Challenge for cause.

A. I. Bell, of Greenwood township, cashier of the Mahaffey bank, was next called and after careful examination was passed by the defense. He was challenged by the Commonwealth.

Fred H. Diehl, laborer of Chest township had conscientious scruples against capital punishment on the ground that two wrongs do not make a right. Challenged for cause by the Commonwealth.

Allen Huston, laborer, of Cooper, was next called. He served four months in the army and had just been discharged from service. He appeared in khaki and when he said he had conscientious scruples against capital punishment was asked by Attorney Woodward how he arrived at such a conclusion especially as he believed that as a soldier it was right to kill his enemy in battle. He could not make satisfactory answer and was challenged for cause by the Commonwealth.

E. H. Lewis, mine foreman, of Karthaus, was challenged for cause by the Commonwealth.

Clarence Bailey, of Glen Hope, was challenged for cause by the Commonwealth.

Henry W. Hendricks, of DuBois, was against capital punishment and was challenged for cause by the Commonwealth.

George W. Noll would not convict without an eye witness. Challenged for cause by Commonwealth.

G. A. Johnson, of Cooper, was against capital punishment as a general reposition and was challenged for cause by the Commonwealth.

Alfred Rees, of Karthaus, was challenged by the Commonwealth.

J. R. Clark, of DuBois, had conscientious scruples and was challenged for cause by the Commonwealth.

J. Quigley, of Sandy township, didn't believe in "confidential killings" and would not convict without an eye witness and was challenged for cause by the Commonwealth.

Eugene Rowles, of Gramplan, was of the same opinion and was disposed of by the same route.

H. D. Bailey, of Cooper, was against capital punishment and the challenge posed of him.

H. P. Rafferty of Penn township, did not like circumstantial evidence and was challenged for cause by the Commonwealth.

A. H. Draucker, of Brady, was against capital punishment and challenged for cause by the Commonwealth.

Mahaffey Ferguson, of Mahaffey, was accepted as juror No. 12.

The men chosen are as follows: Geo E. Hetherington, clerk DuBois. R. J. Dunsmore, dentist, DuBois. James J. McHugh, miner, Gulich twp. G. B. Shunkweiler, laborer Lawrence. S. D. Marshall laborer. E. W. Breen, laborer, DuBois. A. N. Work, machinist, Sandy. Frank Fry, agent, Mahaffey. Ed. A. Thompson, farmer, Greenwood. Karl Anderson, merchant, Cooper. Ellsworth Flagg, lineman, Clearfield. Mahaffey Ferguson, hotel, Mahaffey.

Five happy boys left Clearfield today for Philadelphia to participate in the wonderful parade of the famous "Iron Division" tomorrow. These boys, Reuben Lucas, William W. Keeler and Albert S. Wilson, all of whom were members of Co. L, 111th Infantry, and all of whom were gassed and invalided home, and Dent Holden, Co. B, 109th Infantry, who was both gassed and wounded and Ryle Miller, Co. F, 110th Infantry, who was gassed, go to the "welcome" celebration at Philadelphia as the guests of the State of Pennsylvania. Their carfare, board and lodging are provided without charge.

When the announcement of free passage for casuals was made, no particular effort was made to get transportation for our Clearfield boys but as is usually the case in these circumstances "Pooch-bah" John Bain got on the job yesterday morning and by telephone reached Adjutant General Beary and although the request was late, persuaded Gen. Beary to wave rules and issue tickets. The tickets were received by Mr. Bain this morning and distributed to the boys.

PHILADELPHIA, May 14—Indications today were that the transport Peerless carrying 28th division troops would not reach here in time to permit its men participating in Thursday's parade. Troops aboard included the 108th Field Artillery, 108 Machine Gun battalion and Co. M. of the 110th Inf.

NOT A BANK HOLIDAY

Although tomorrow has been designated a legal holiday by a concurrent house resolution directing the governor to declare it a holiday, and although Governor Sproul has so declared, the Attorney General has ruled that it is not a bank holiday. We will pay our notes as usual.

DUBOIS EDITOR HERE

W. B. Ross, editor of the DuBois Courier, is a city visitor today as a special guest of Sheriff Gorman, he having been called as a special jurymen in the Ardery case. Happily, the twelfth man was found before Bill's name was reached so the versatile editor filled in the balance of the day taking notes on the case, and the Courier will have the benefit of his capable editing tomorrow morning.

AGRICULTURAL AND
GAME COMMISSION
TO ENFORCE DOG LAW

State Game Protector Woody Kelly was in town today on his way home to DuBois from a trip to Harrisburg. Mr. Kelly informed us that the State Game Commission, following an opinion and authorization from the Attorney General's Department, proposed to get busy on the cleanup of unlicensed dogs throughout the State. He also said that Clearfield county was one of the worst counties in the State in this regard, as the Constables in the different districts seemed to consider the dog law a dead letter.

Under the law now the owner of an unlicensed dog is subject to a fine of from $10 to 100 in addition to having his dog killed and it is the purpose of the game authorities and agricultural department to see that henceforth the law is enforced to the letter.

In his walk about town this morning Mr. Kelly counted no less than five unlicensed dogs in a distance of four blocks in the business section. He looked up the Constables before leaving for home and notified them to get busy and a dog slaying campaign will no doubt be the result.

BILL ORGANIZING
CONSERVATION DEPT.
PASSES THE SENATE

HARRISBURG, May 14—The Senate today passed the bill creating a Department of Conservation. General protests were raised at the hearing of the bill by representatives of sportsmen's associations from all sections of the state who asked for continuance of the game commission. No amendments of particular importance were made. The bill provides for an advisory commission of nine members but complete power is placed in the hands of a Commissioner of Conservation who receives a salary of $8,000. The bill is backed by the administration but will likely be amended in the House.

The House bill organizing a Banking Department was finally passed with but two dissenting votes.

The insurance department reorganization bill passed finally.

The Senate bill prohibiting the attendance of children between 8 and 14 years at moving pictures during school hours was passed on second reading.

CLEARFIELD BOY ON ALPINE

Wagoner Ernest C. Barger, with Supply C. 79th Field Artillery in a letter to his mother, Mrs. Daniel Barger, from Sorey, France, dated April 18th, says he is alive and well, but does not know whether he will be home this year or next, although his outfit is packed up ready to move somewhere. He says he just returned from a thirteen day furlough which he spent in sight seeing. He was up in the Alps mountains to Chamonix on the highest peak in Europe. The day before his party arrived they had a snow fall of three feet, but he said that never even jarred a Pennsylvanian.

MIKADO PLAYERS
PUT SHOW OVER
IN FINE STYLE

Producer Kerr And His Cast
With Wonderful Orchestra
Entertain Crowded Theatre

GOOD SEATS AT A PREMIUM

The first performance of "The Mikado" at the Driggs theatre last evening was greeted by a large audience who were well repaid for their attendance.

The show was even better than expected and every number or feature made a hit. The applause was spontaneous and enthusiastic and not a single "point" was missed.

The entire cast was in competent hands while the choruses were equally strong, the Japanese maidens being exceptionally pretty. The only rift in our artistic lute was the appearance of the Japanese gentlemen, in the chorus. They are simply awful to look at, and on account of the delicate international situation at present we were "on needles and pins" as the saying is, all the time the curtain was up for fear some real sure-enough Jap, with his feelings on his sleeve, would happen into the theatre and immediately decide that the caricatures present and labeled "Japanese gentlemen" were enough in themselves to establish a casus belli, and declare war at once. Those Japanese really looked as though they had been crossed with the "Wizard of Oz" with a few specimens from the "Gingerbread man" on the side. But go and see them tonight or tomorrow night, you'll laugh too. They are really awful to look at.

Director Kerr is to be congratulated upon the success of the initial performance and Musical Director Leopold is also deserving of highest praise for the manner in which his part in the production was carried out.

The show will be repeated tonight and tomorrow and as an entertainment such as this improves with each performance a rare treat is in store for those who will attend tonight or tomorrow night.

CONGRESSMAN JONES
GLAD TO HELP MEN
SECURE ALLOWANCES

Bradford Pa. May 14

"There are a number of inquiries that come to me as to the mileage allotment for enlisted men honorably discharged from the army, navy and marine corps since November 11, 1918. Under the Act of February 29th 1919, this was fixed at five cents per mile from the place of his discharge to the place of his original muster into the service. Since the passage of that Act the men have been receiving the five cents but there were many men discharged between November 11, 1918 and February 29th 1919 who received the former rate of three and one-half cents.

Under a decision recently made by the Controller of the Currency, these men are now entitled to the additional sum of one and one-half cents per mile. Any discharged soldier entitled to this increase, if he will make it known to my office either here or at Washington, I will be very glad to assist him in getting the same."

Prof. Andes acted as Toastmaster and happy little after dinner speeches were made by Supt. Zerfoss, President of the School Board Bigler, Prof. Van Osten, Mr. Mitchell and several of the boys of the team.

The 1918-19 season was quite successful and the boys were highly complimented during the evening on the skill and sportsmanship shown.

The election of a captain for next year's team was made at this gathering and Newt Norris was unanimously chosen for the place.

"BIG FOUR" LITERALLY FLOODED WITH WHINES FROM COWED "BLOND BEAST"

By FRED S. FERGUSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, May 14—The "big four" today received three new notes from the German delegates relative to the peace terms. The notes were not published. Seven communications concerning the treaty have thus far been delivered to the Allies. The first two notes were promptly answered. The second two concerning labor and war prisoners were referred to a special committee of experts. It was believed that a reply to the labor note must be made today. Confidence was expressed in high quarters notwithstanding the present flooding of communications from Germany they will complete their objections to the terms well within the fifteen day limit and that the Allies will have made full peeply within 10 days. The same authorities admitted the cleverness of the labor note which may be used as a wedge for many objections. Also as a means of winning sympathy from a certain radical element throughout the world.

BERLIN MOB SHOWS HATRED FOR U.S.
BY CRYING "DOWN WITH AMERICA"

By JOHN GRAUNDENZ

BERLIN, May 13 delayed—Fifteen thousand majority Socialists made a demonstration in front of the Hotel Adlon today crying "down with Wilson, down with the Americans." The tumult grew in front of the American headquarters until 50 soldiers cleared the streets. The crowd had gathered for a demonstration against the peace terms in front of the Reichstag building. They were addressed by Richard Fischer who said that the confidence of Germany in President Wilson had been shamefully abused and that the government would refuse to sign the treaty. The demonstrators thronged in front of the Hotel Adlon hooting, jeering and shouting "robbers". The tumultuous scene lasted a half hour. Chancellor Schiedemann later addressed a large crowd in front of the Reichstag.

"We will fight to the utmost against separation by violence of any German territory," Chancellor Schiedemann declared in a statement today.

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

ST. GERMAIN, May 14—The hour of the arrival of the Austrian peace delegates in St. Germain scheduled for today was uncertain. Special telephone, telegraph and wireless facilities were installed here. Wireless will permit the enemy delegates to go in direct communication with Austria, Vienna. The delegates will live in the Hotel Pavillon of Henry the Fourth. The treaty will be presented to the Austrians in the chateau.

There is nothing smart any more in a young blood owning an eight cylinder roadster, but the fellow who has a fleet driving horse or riding horse comes in for more or less attention.

The Mikado performance last evening was a real pleasant surprise. It surpasses by far many of the high class musical comedies which visit our city. It is gratifying to learn that the seat rule is progressing today in a manner which warrants the prediction that the Driggs theatre will be over crowded both to night and tomorrow night.

Between extracting teeth, shooting or shooting at wild heifers and playing a gamey trout into a net, Dr. Frank D. Leipold has been a busy man during the last few years or since he quit conducting military bands. The conductor, however, has lost none of his old time "pep." His orchestra had a great deal to do with the success of the Mikado last evening.

It is unfortunate that the Salvation Army drive should come immediately on the heels of not only a Victory Loan drive but also just after a week filled with opera, a la Florence Nash, and three nights of the Mikado, to say nothing of John Robinson's circus which will be here on Friday. On Saturday evening we are not going to have enough money left to satisfy a heartless butcher and an unfeeling grocer. However, the Salvation Army deserves first place in our gratitude and there is not one of us but whom will be glad, and count it a privilege, to add our mite to the fund which they ask. The doughboy is heart and soul for the Salvation Army. We can rely on his judgment.

The Anderson case which was begun before Judge Bell on Monday last promises to be one of the most expensive murder trials in Clearfield County in some time. The expense of securing a jury will exceed that of possibly any other jury in the recent criminal history of the county.

In addition to the regular panel of sixty-five names summoned for May term of criminal court twenty additional jurors were summoned for Monday last. These eighty-five names yielded, but six jurors who were able to pass the grilling and grueling of counsel in the case. Following this Sheriff Gorman was directed to summon seventy-five more, who reported at 1:30 Tuesday. From this extra panel just five jurors were secured and when the entire list had been exhausted the Sheriff was again ordered to produce an additional fifty men. These men reported at 1:30 today when the examination was again resumed for the purpose of getting the twelfth man.

The Progress representative visited the court house this morning for the purpose of determining just what the expense of these extra jurors would amount to. We found upon investigation at the Commissioners', Treasurer's and Sheriff's offices that the total expense to the taxpayers of the county of the one hundred and twenty-five jurors specially summoned would amount to approximately $1500.

These figures are arrived at by averaging the amount received by each juror at $8.00, which includes his pay for the day and mileage, in addition to the Sheriff's cost and mileage getting the men here. Each juror receives $2.50 per day and six cents per mile mileage. Some of the jurors received as much as $11.00 while none were under $5.50.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. To have clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must get at the cause.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.
They stimulate bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.

CARRY A FEW OLD NEWSPAPERS ALONG FOR MUDDY HOLES

A resourceful motorist whose car has been stuck in the mud does not always have to fall back on a pair of mules to get free. For such an emergency the United States Tire Company offers some suggestions that have proved valuable.

The first calls for having stored away somewhere in the car a stock of old newspapers. When the car gets stuck and the wheels refuse to take hold feed in some of the old papers between the tires and the mud. Usually only a few will have to be worked in before the wheels will begin to grip and the car start forward. This method of handling a difficult situation is so simple and so uniformly successful, that every motorist should know of it and carry a pile of old newspapers, unless he is equipped with some other apparatus for such a contingency.

Here is the other method suggested by the United States Tire Company: Put the car in low, and if you cannot feed the gas with your foot evenly, so that the wheels will revolve slowly, put your emergency brake on. Do not put it on so that the wheels will not revolve at all, but tightly enough to keep them from revolving rapidly. With the wheels turning slowly, the maximum pull is delivered to them by having the car in low gear, and so long as they turn slowly they can get the benefit of the tremendous power.

It is not always wise to fill the hole with stones or bricks, for their rough edges are hard on tires. Small branches of trees are better, as they offer much better tractive space. Should this method fail, quite often a slight push that would not much more than move a baby buggy will furnish just the added amount of power necessary to get the car going.

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion are nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, waterbrash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

The Queen Victoria centenary celebration this month recalls the fact that there was considerable trouble in finding a name for the royal baby born in the old, shabby, brick palace in Kensington, May 24 1819. The father wished to call her Elizabeth, thinking that from its glorious traditions it would prove a name to please the people should she occupy the throne. But the Prince Regent, who was godfather, together with the Emperor of Russia, gave only the name of Alexandrina to the clergy. The father pleaded that another name be added, and proposed the feminine for of the Regent's own name, Georgina. But the Regent said his name could not come in the second place, and as the Emperor's must take precedence, if the baby had to have another name to give her mother's. So the Princess came to be called Alexandrina Victoria, and in infancy was known as the Princess "Drina"—a name she dropped after her accession, for she did not want her mother's name to be second to any other name.

Marion Harland, still active and busy writing, although now in her 89th year, is a prominent example of what old age can accomplish for she can trace back a career that has gained in power and prestige with every birthday, as a writer and authoress of universal renown.

When the "Rainbows" Broke the Prussian Guards—and the Hun Morale

By REPRESENTATIVE HORACE M. TOWNER, of Iowa

When Foch not only stopped the well-conceived offensive of the Germans, which was to be their final and triumphant march on Paris, but immediately launched a counter-offensive with what seemed reckless abandon against the German lines, he met with unexpected success. By hard and well-directed fighting he forced the Germans to retire on both sides of the Chateau-Thierry triangle. So rapidly was the assault pressed that the Germans, in danger of a disastrous rout, called into action their strongest reserves. It was then that the Germans determined to send the invincible Prussian Guards against the advance. It was the "Rainbow" division that met this onset of the Prussian Guards.

The Prussian Guards have been regarded by the German people for more than a century as the ideal of the German army. They have been considered not only as the best that German military science could produce but vastly superior to any other military organization in the world. They were not called into action except upon extraordinary occasions. They were sent against the Americans to demolish them, to put them to shame, to show their lack of training and incompetency. The Fourth, their crack division, the best of the best, hitherto undefeated, led the attack.

The guards charged in due form, but, strange to say, the Americans refused to yield. The "Rainbow" boys met the onset calmly and resolutely, and with such a well-directed storm of rifle and machine-gun fire that it blinded and stunned and finally stopped the fierce assault.

And then the boys from Camp Creek and Smoky Hollow counter-charged with a swiftness and ferocity that took the breath away from the wondering guards. The Americans simply went through the front ranks of the invincible guards as if it were an everyday diversion. Time and again the officers of the guards rallied the men to stop the American onset. Some say four times, some six, and others say nine times the guards tried to re-form and re-attack, but the Americans pressed them so hard they could not find a chance. The Americans pressed them not only in front but soon attacked their flanks. The Germans were in danger of being surrounded, and so there was nothing to do but retreat in order to prevent surrender or destruction. This they did, with difficulty preserving their organization.

It was a glorious victory for the Forty-second division. It was a terrible defeat for the guards. It gave confidence to the allies all along the line. It did more to break the morale of the Germans than any other single action.

Bohemia Protected Against Anarchy by Great Faith and Patriotism

By THOMAS MASARYK, President

The bolshevik government in Russia will last longer than is generally supposed, not because of the inherent force of the ideas and methods of the bolsheviks, as many persons erroneously think, but because of the weakness of the other parties, which are sleeping in a dangerous state of lethargy.

I am not afraid that Bohemia, even though surrounded by countries in liquidation, like Russia, like Germany, like Austria-Hungary, will be disappointed because of anarchy in realizing its fullest hopes of resurrection. I do not fear that in the least, in spite of its unfortunate geographical position. The Czechoslovak republic will be protected from the infection of its great faith, its great patriotism, and by good organization and preparation. The new state, like the other victories of the contents, need fear nothing from this anarchy which never has and never will have power to destroy the edifice created by victory.

As to the Hungarians who are unwilling to renounce their claims to Slovakia, it is possible there may be some questions. But over the outcome I feel no anxiety. Whether the outcome shall be settled by force of arms, whether as a matter of right, the triumph will be ours.

Salvation Army lassies served old fashioned American doughnuts in the front line trenches, and now that the war is over they will be found again in the slums and dark places of our great cities, ready to give a helping hand to men, women and children who are on the down grade. She knows their sick roomings in the wreck of a dissolute man a spark of humanity that will kindle a redeeming flame, because she has fanned many flickering sparks until her patient has regained his feet. She now heads the Salvation Army in the United States at the great moment of its career. The old time slurs and doubts have been banished. I am very much interested to know that the Salvation Army is about to enter into a campaign for a sustaining fund. I feel that the Salvation Army needs no commendation from me. The love and gratitude it has elicited from the troops is a sufficient evidence of the work it has done, and I feel that I should not so much commend it as to congratulate it. "OUT OF LOVE" CLUB UNIQUE ORGANIZATION

Members Are Girls Rescued by Salvation Army.

The "Out of Love" Club is one of the important club organizations maintained by the Salvation Army in this country. In every large city where there is a Salvation Army corps girls who have been helped back into the normal pace of a workaday world are proud of the membership in this club. Disappointed, loveless girls who do not forget kindnesses shown them in their hour of greatest need give out of love to help other girls receive the same friendliness. In a simple, quiet way, this unique idea has been maintained for over 20 years.

In every large city in the country there are girls who have needed the ministrations of the Salvation Army. After they have been helped and sent on their way again they become life members of this club if they so desire. Only girls are admitted who have given a good account of themselves for at least one month in the positions found for them by the Salvation Army after their release from a hospital or home. These girls pledge themselves to keep alive the spirit of friendliness and home which the Salvation Army has spread among them. The girls are expected to dress in a plain, simple way, and avoid in any sense of the word gaudy or tawdry clothing. Gossiping or tale bearing is tabooed. If members of the club transgress this rule they are liable to suspension for a month or longer. The "Out of Love Club" is one of the many activities that will benefit by the success of the Salvation Army Home Service Fund Campaign for $13,000,000 May 19-26.

Reconstruction Work at Home And Abroad Will Cost Methodists $5,000,000 A Year for Five Years

Bishop Henderson Gives Vivid Picture Of World Needs, As Result Of War's Havoc.

Duty of Church Plain, He Says. Humanity's Call For Help In World's Crisis Will Not Go Unheeded.

Vast Scope Of Relief Program Explained. Orphanages Dispensaries And Social Work Projected.

How Methodism will meet after-the-war responsibilities by expending vast sums of money in reconstruction work both at home and abroad, was outlined today by Bishop Theodore S. Henderson, of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Bishop Henderson, recently returned from abroad, as a special deputy of the Missionary Centenary of the Church, to make a minute survey of needs in European areas hardest hit by the invasion of the Hun, and he is soon to sail from New York with a relief ship laden with supplies for the stricken people of Northern France and Italy.

"The stricken French in devastated areas will stagger for years under the yoke that war has imposed and they need America's help, and they need it without delay," Bishop Henderson said.

"As the special representative of the Methodist Centenary I have just returned from a tour of France, Italy and other territory wrecked by war, and I am convinced that the way is open for the church to do a piece of constructive work that will be unprecedented."

Bishop Henderson announced that to fulfill the requirements of the Centenary program, the Methodist Episcopal Church will spend $5,000,000 in war reconstruction work this year, more than half of that sum being spent in Europe, chiefly in French territory.

"The plight of the French in the invaded sections, swept bare of everything, is most pitiable," the Bishop said. "America's aid is needed and as quickly as it can be given. Mothers with babes in their arms, by the thousands are on the verge of starvation, and the plight of other thousands for lack of food and clothing is almost as bad. The situation in some sections of France is beyond the imagination of the average American who enjoys peace and plenty."

"Methodism will do its part to bring relief to these distressed people. We shall spend in Europe this year a total of $2,500,000 to meet actual needs according to the accurate survey made by the Centenary deputation of clergymen. Later $5,000,000 will be expended annually."

"The outstanding features of this program are: Relief ships to carry medicine, food, clothing, farming implements and a variety of utensils to aid the destitute in starting life anew; rest houses; notable extensions of orphanages, community centers; together with other activities over a long range. A total of $2,500,000 also will be spent in the United States during the present year on work made necessary by the war."

Nearly 200,000 orphans who are left absolutely dependent upon charity, provides one of the problems which the Methodist Church will seek to solve through its Centenary benevolences, Bishop Henderson declared.

Immediate authorizations for French people in distress amount to $796,000, the Bishop declared. "Our principal work will be done in Cannes, Lyons,

BISHOP THEODORE S. HENDERSON

Toulon, Nice, Grenoble, Metz, Nancy, Amiens, Noyon and Savoy. Clinics will be established at once at these towns and community centers will be started. The two present establishments at Charvieux and Bouilly, for caring for orphans of those who fell in war will be greatly enlarged and facilities will be installed to enlarge the scope of the work done so that the children may be taught agriculture. A new farm will be bought at Charvieux at a cost of $25,000 together with two residential villas and new farm machinery. Additional land will be bought at Bouilly at a cost of $10,000.

"Among some of the other projects are a day nursery at Albertville and a community center building in Bourneuf. The program for the year covers a lengthy list of other towns and a wide range of activities, in proportion to the needs."

"Community centers will be a big feature of our work. An orphanage for boys whose fathers fell in war will be built at Trent. A school for wood carving at Venice will be enlarged. The program for Alcasandria, in Italy. We shall install at that place a clinic, night classes, day nursery gymnasium and free dispensary. Throughout the whole reconstruction program the efforts to instill the spirit of Christianity in the hearts of the people will go hand in hand with ministrations to the minds and bodies of the war sufferers."

"From this you can see that the Church has a responsibility which must be met. We must aid the families trying to live a life all over again. We must ease the strain of the struggle has shown on the moral as well as bodies, and exert our influence for a better civilization. All the sacred values built up in the character of the people by war sacrifice must be retained. It is the duty of the Church to keep up with the amazing shifts in populations as a result of the war. War stirred unassimilated foreign masses must be Americanized. The Church has taken up its duty along these and other lines and is seeking to do its part to solve the problems that confront us."

"The Centenary program embraces the idea of the Brotherhood of Man—the very idea for which we fought and won victory in France. The world feeling must not die out. It's a bigger thing than the war. Our aim must be to wipe out every scar left by the war upon the nation's lives. To be content with the world as it was before 1914 is to confess failure. We must help to make a better and brighter world. The spirit of Christ must rule over every nation."

Laden with food, clothing and farm implements a ship will sail for Europe in a few weeks under the supervision of leaders in the Methodist Centenary to carry relief to war sufferers of France, Italy and Southeastern Europe.

Dr. B. M. Tittle, head of the Methodist College in Rome, Bishop Theodore S. Henderson of Detroit, and Bishop W. F. Anderson will accompany the ship which will discharge its cargo before July 1.

Bishop Henderson has just returned from Europe where he was surveying the needs of the war sufferers with a view to formulating a program for their relief which will be made part of the Methodist Centenary five-year program.

Although much relief work has already been done in Europe by other agencies of the Methodist Episcopal Church the relief ship will be the initial one sent out as a Centenary offering.

The ship will enter the Mediterranean, discharge part of the cargo at Marseilles and land the rest in Trieste. From Trieste supplies will be sent to Italy, the Balkans, the new Jug-Slav nation, Hungary, Rumania and if conditions allow, Southern Russia.

Dr. Tittle, who is close in touch with European conditions, says that tractor plows and other farming implements are badly needed. "We also will send a few cows as the invading armies drove off all the stock from Northern Italy and the Balkans," he said.

"We shall include auto trucks for farming and for carrying relief supplies, clothing and shoes desperately needed by men, women and children, condensed milk for babies, flour, corn meal, potatoes, salt, sugar, bacon, medicines, seeds, candles, pots, pans, matches and 50 to 100 movable houses."

RESULTS TELL

There Can Be No Doubt About the Results in Clearfield

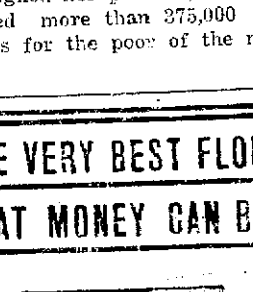

Result tell the tale. All doubt is removed. The testimony of a Clearfield citizen.

Can be easily investigated. What better proof can be had? F. R. Waple, 422 W. Front St., says "Some time ago I was troubled with a bad pain in the small of my back which caused me a lot of distress. I also had severe headaches and a lame and tired feeling all over. I purchased a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and found them to do me a lot of good from the start. Two boxes in all of this medicine fixed me up in fine shape. Since then, when I have had an attack of that kind, I have used Doan's and have always found them to bring good results."

Clear, Peachy Skin Awaits Anyone Who Drinks Hot Water

Says an inside bath, before breakfast helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Sparkling and vivacious—merry, bright, alert—a good clear skin and a natural, rosy, healthy complexion are assured only by pure blood. If only every man and woman could be induced to adopt the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls, with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nervic" wrecks, "rascals," "brain fag" and pessimists we should see a viril, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, indigestion, and particularly those who have a sallow, yellow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance, awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

TIME TO FEED YOUNG CHICKS

Young chicks may be fed any time after they are thirty-six to forty-eight hours old whether they are with a hen or in a brooder. Some good feeds for the first feeding are moistened hard-boiled eggs, Johnnycake, stale bread, oatmeal or rolled oats, which may be fed separately or in combination. Mash mixed with milk are of considerable value in giving the chicks a good start. The mixture should be fed in a crumbly mash and not in a sloppy condition. Johnnycake composed of the following ingredients in the proportion named is a very good feed for young chicks: One dozen infertile eggs or one pound of sifted beef scraps to ten pounds of cornmeal; add enough milk to make a pasty mash and one tablespoonful of baking soda and bake until done. Dry bread crumbs may be mixed with hard-boiled eggs, making about one-fourth of the mixture eggs, or rolled oats may be used in place of bread crumbs.

It is a good plan to give these feeds about five times daily for the first week, then gradually substitute for one or two of these feeds a mixture of finely cracked grains of equal parts by weight of cracked wheat and finely cracked corn and pinhead oatmeal or hulled oats, to which about 5 per cent of cracked peas or broken rice and 2 per cent of charcoal or millet or rape seed may be added. A commercial chick feed may be substituted if desired. This ration may be fed until the chicks are two weeks old, when they should be placed on grain and a dry or wet mash mixture.

Young chickens should be fed from three to five times daily, but if care is given not to overfeed chicks will grow faster when fed five times per day. Young chicks should be fed no more than barely enough to satisfy their appetites and to keep them exercising except at the evening or last meal, when they should be given all they will eat. There is danger in over-feeding, particularly if the young chicks are confined and do not have access to free range, as too much food under such conditions is apt to cause leg weakness.

Private Ward was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for conspicuous gallantry in action near Estrees, France, October 8, 1918. During an advance Private Ward's company was held up by a machine gun which was enfilading the line. Accompanied by a non-commissioned officer, he advanced against this position and succeeded in reducing the nest by killing three and capturing seven of the enemy and their guns. His mother, Mrs. Laura Ward, lives in Morrisstown, Tenn.

John Robinson's circus is coming to Clearfield Friday May 16th, and will take possession of the old show grounds early on the morning of exhibition days to prepare for the parade and two performances. The first section of the mile long circus train will reach the city about daylight and the work of unloading will be commenced at the peep of dawn.

Giant motor tractors will assist the hundreds of heavy draft horses to transport the baggage wagons and the animals cages to the grounds. One of these engines, nearly as large and strong as a British tank, is capable of drawing a train of seven circus wagons with a combined weight of thirty-five or forty tons. Other labor and time saving devices, perfected through necessity brought about by the great scarcity of workingmen this year, will be used by the Robinson circus. Massive spindie wheels are used on which to roll the canvas tents. In former times it was customary to unlance the canvass in sections, roll it together and lift it into the baggage wagons. These wheels mounted on steel wagons, forty feet long are driven by a gas motor, and, when a section of canvas is attached it is drawn from the ground and rolled in a surprisingly short space of time.

Instead of using man-power to hoist the towering center poles, which form the chief support of the big arena tent, elephants pull them into place by means of block and tackle. The large stakes used by the show are driven by two electric stake drivers.

Many surprises for the grown-ups as well as the children are promised by John Robinson. Among the arena artists in the big show performance will be Marie Bedini billed as the world's greatest girl rider, Tetu Robinson aerial marvel, Minnie Fisher in remarkable feats in midair the famous Nelson family of acrobats, the Ortons, the Lowanda's, Fred Leggett, the Hodgini's, Clara Masters and the Bedini Family, bareback riders, three herds of performing elephants, fifty clowns, two troupes of educated seals and high stepping menage horses.

Sage Tea Keeps Your Hair Dark

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantage of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of Weyen's Sage and Sulphur Compound, which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application of two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous and you appear years younger.

THE FRIENDLY TOBACCO

THERE may be some things that can be done well in a hurry, but pickin' a wife an' again' a tobacco ain't amonget 'em.

Velvet Joe

We put away millions of pounds of fine Kentucky Burley tobacco every year, stored in wooden hogsheads. It ripens two years. When we take it out it's different—Nature has improved it, good as it was—made it friendlier, more fragrant, cool-smoking, long-burning.

Nature has given it a delicious quality of mildness and fragrance that no artificial means can ever equal.

It's just that extra touch of friendly goodness that is building up VELVET Tobacco into the favor and good will of thousands of pipe smokers who prefer to smoke tobacco cured in Nature's way.

You would notice the difference.

Can We Tolerate
Orthodoxy?By REV. J. H. RALSTON, D. D.
Secretary of Correspondence Department,
Moody Bible Institute, ChicagoTEXT—For the time will come when
they will not endure sound doctrine.—2
Tim. 4:3.The following bit of conversation is
reported by the Boston Transcript,
giving a suggestion as to the
present attitude
towards the message that God has
committed to his
prophets of today:"You don't
mean to say you
have given Rev.
Dr. — a call to
your church?"
"We have, and
expect him next
month. What is
the matter with
him?""Matter? Why,
my dear, he is so hopelessly, deeply,
darkly and beautifully orthodox!"To say, "Your doxy is not my doxy,"
does not dispose of the question of or-
thodoxy, as claimed by some. Ortho-
doxy cannot be laughed out of court.
It can afford to bide its time, for it is destined to win. To be orthodox, is
simply to hold to correct teaching or
dogma if you please, that is right. The
very word itself gives the idea of right
teaching.When we inquire as to what is ortho-
doxy, the answers vary, according to
the standpoint occupied. One will say
that it is the universal divine teaching
of the ages. Another will say that it
is the consensus of religious opinion
held by Christian scholars of the present day. Another will say that it
is the "new spirit" of the twentieth
century, as a distinguished theological
professor calls it. Another will say
it is the response of the soul of man to revelation. Still another says it is the
will of God, as made known to man
through the inspired writings that are
known as the Scriptures of the Old
and New Testaments.The man who claims the "new spirit"
is orthodox, rather than a divine
revelation, is setting up a standard of
orthodoxy just as certainly as his opponent. The teachings of unbelievers
are just as positive as those of believers.
It is a claim of the liberal thinkers
of the day, in the words of a distinguished university professor, that
orthodoxy met its Waterloo in the
world war, and gave as the reason for
the statement that the Kaiser was orthodox.Where is the "sound doctrine" of
our text to be found? We unhesitatingly
say, "In the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments." The mean-
ing of the Greek word translated
"sound," "healthy" or "wholesome."
If we have in mind the health-
condition of the soul or the mind, everything is clear. The apostle is simply
urging that health-giving words be
spoken. Are those words health-giving that make young people lose their
faith in God and Christ?A young man, carrying an A.B.
from a leading American university
and in his second year at a theological
seminary, stated recently that he had
lost faith in the doctrines of his fathers. A young woman recently wrote
that during her college course her
faith in the Bible had been under-
mined. It is well known that today,
intelligent Christian parents with
abundant means at their disposal, are
hesitating to send their children to the
ordinary college, even the college of
their own religious denomination.Take up a piece of pottery, or
either suspend it from some object or
let it rest very lightly on some support, and then tap it. If the response
is clear, you pronounce it sound; if the
response is cracked, or flat, you say
it is not sound. Apply this principle
to the Scriptures, and we find that
they respond with a clear sound. By
the same test, the message that goes
from the man of God may be tested as
to whether it is sound or not, and that
test is the Scriptures of the Old and
New Testament.There is a demand that we get back
to the old paths, to the simple Word of
God. Whatever good there is today
in the world body politic is owing to
the purity of the doctrine of the days
gone by, that have given to the world
such men as President Wilson, Lloyd
George, John R. Mott and Robert
Speer. Of the great characters that
have honored public life within the
last century, not one of them was taint-
ed by the "new spirit," among whom
we may mention William E. Gladstone,
John Bright, Abraham Lincoln and
Theodore Roosevelt.Not only should there be tolerance
for orthodoxy, right thinking and living, but a demand for it that will not
be silenced until in the church, college
and in the secular men and women
and young people will be safe, and not
only safe, but secure in their safety.

Work for All.

One of the greatest needs of the
church and of humanity today is for
people willing to roll up their sleeves
and work unselfishly. There are
many who accept office who are very

think they have no duties. Unless
they are a cog in a wheel they are lack-

WHEEL USED BY GERMANS TO SAVE RUBBER

The photograph shows a wheel that was much used on German trucks in order to conserve rubber. The rim is made of steel and the pads between the steel rim and the wheel are made of rubber. The picture was taken at

PROBLEM OF GASAutomobile and Petroleum Men
Must Get Together in Close
Harmonious Co-operation.

INCREASE IN MOTOR CARS

Said to Be Possible to Construct Internal Combustion Engines Which
Will Consume Much Less Fuel
of Inferior Kind.The perennial fuel problem will never
be solved until the automobile indus-
try and the petroleum industry get together in close and harmonious cooperation, says Mark L. Requa, general
director of the oil division of the United States fuel administration. In an
interview, which appears in Motor, the
national magazine of motoring."The motor fuel problem is not only
a possibility of the future," continues
Mr. Requa, "but even an actuality
of the present, as will be understood
by anyone who takes the trouble to
make even the most cursory examination of the situation." In 1912 our
production of petroleum was 222,935,044
barrels of 42 gallons. In 1916 the out-
put of this basic producer of motor
fuel was 300,767,138 barrels, an increase in four years of less than 30
per cent. On the other hand, in 1912
there were about 1,000,000 motor vehicles in the country, while in 1916 the
motor population of the United States
had risen to 3,541,738. This represents
an increase of over 300 per cent in four
years. With one side of an equation
growing less than 30 per cent and the
other side increasing more than 300
per cent, the ultimate situation is not
hard to foreshadow.

Engine Uses Less Oil.

"I am not an automobile engineer,
so I cannot speak from personal knowledge, but I have been informed that it
is possible to design internal combus-
tion engines which will consume much
less fuel per mile than is now being
consumed, and of a much inferior qual-
ity. If this is a fact and the automobile industry faces the situation in cooperation with the oil men to effect
this saving, while these latter are de-
voting their best effort to increasing
production, it would seem that we
might not enough off each end of our
problem to solve it."We seem to be only at the beginning of the gasoline era; a few years
ago gasoline was a wasted by-product;
today it is the most important product
of petroleum, amounting to almost 50
per cent of the total value of petroleum
products. With the record of the past
as a guide, it would seem that the two
great industries so interdependent up-
on each other should co-operate in
bringing about the most efficient consumption of gasoline and the most intelligent understanding of each other's
problems."

CARE OF WINDSHIELD GLASS

Application of Strong Soapsuds Will Prevent Fog or Rain From
Obscuring Vision.Strong soapsuds made from auto-
mobile soap and rubbed on the glass
of the windshield and allowed to dry
will prevent fog or rain from obscuring
the vision through the glass. Kerosene is sometimes used for this purpose, but it does not last as long as the
above, and glycerin is also recommended.

AVOID FORMATION OF RUST

If Car Is Used in Bad Weather Tires
and Rims Should Be Wiped
Clean With Sponge.If the car owner, after being out in
bad weather, will take the trouble to
wipe the tires and rims clean with a
sponge and then wipe them dry, espe-
cially along the beads, he will do much
to prevent the formation of rust.Statistics gathered from many
lands show that married women live
an average of two years longer than
single ones.

Motorist Should Economize on Cur-
rent and Keep Engine Tuned
to Start on Second Turn.The man who has trouble keeping
his battery charged will find that dif-
ficulty largely can be overcome by
careful handling. In other words, he
should economize on current. He
should keep his engine tuned up so
that it starts on the second or third
turn. Thus he can minimize the
amount of current used in starting,
and, remember, this is very large. The
current required is 200 to 600 times
as much as required by an ordinary
16-candle power house light.He should also be economical with his lights. He should use his headlights only when absolutely necessary.
He should determine the car speed
at which his current relay makes connection with the battery and operate
the car as much as possible above this
speed.If he drives much in a congested
city district and stops his engine many
times he will find that his battery can
be kept more nearly charged by changing gears in traffic whenever necessary instead of trying to do it all on
high gear, the reason being that by
changing gears he boosts his engine
speed so that his battery is charged,
while if he tried to pull slowly on
high he gets down to a speed at which
charging stops due to the opening of
the cut out.

DELICATE CAR DOOR POCKETS

Wooden Strips May Be Securely Fast-
ened by Using Blue, Round-
Headed Screws.Many cars are afflicted with "delicate" door pockets, those which are
made of inferior material or are im-
properly fastened. These are apt to tear loose at the corners since they are
merely tacked on wooden strips attached to the door. When this happens they may be securely fastened
by using round-headed screws, which
should have blued heads when the material is blued. These same screws
can be used to advantage in fastening
the linoleum flooring to the boards,
especially at the corners.

Car Owner Should Emulate Example
of Locomotive Engineer by Using
Hand to Find Trouble.The locomotive engineer frequently
uses his hand to determine lubrication
failure, and this is a hint that the car
owner can put to good use. Failure
of lubrication permits excessive friction, and friction generates heat. An
part which is discovered to be too
hot to the hand held near it is probably suffering from faulty lubrication.Mrs. Francette Plumer Maring judge of Seattle's juvenile girls
court, is the only woman on the Pacific coast to hold such a position.
